

How to Find the Right Balance with your Cleaning Chemistry

Session Questions and Answers

Q: How does exhaust affect the cleaning process?

A: Improper exhaust can cause cross-contamination in the wash and rinse tanks, as well as affect concentration.

Q: How long does a bath last in the cleaning process?

A: Every situation is different, so the best way to determine bath life is with NVR testing

Q: What is an acceptable level of di water supplied to a piece of equipment?

A: Typically, you can rinse down to 2 meg/ohms

Q: What is the biggest mistake in qualifying a process?

A: Ensuring your whole cleaning process is balanced

Q: What is the typical concentration % of balanced cleaning chemistry?

A: 12-15 %